Scheduled tours aren't always available, but when scheduled tours are available, you'll see a small 'Schedule' option on the tour mode selection screen. When scheduling a trip, you must specify a pickup window. You can schedule a trip up to 7 days ahead of time. You will receive a reminder before your pick-up, even if a driver has not yet been found. To be noted: We cannot guarantee the availability of drivers in your area at the specific time the tour is being requested. Back to top See also: How to request a ride How to create a Lyft account Scheduled pickups allow you to claim rides in advance by adding them to your custom list. When available, you can see estimated earnings and approximate pickup and delivery locations of a tour in advance. You must log in and accept your scheduled withdrawal within the designated time frame. We'll send you a notification when it's time to open the app, log in online, and start going to the pilot pickup location. Note: Scheduled pickups are not available in all regions. FAQs How do I add rides to my pickup trucks? Open the app. Tap your photo in the upper left corner. Tap the 'Scheduled Pickups' tab to see available pickups (if not, we'll let you know) Check estimated fares and routes and tap 'Add to my pickups'. You can see the scheduled pickups in the 'My Pickups' switcher. Once it's time to go for any scheduled withdrawal, we will send a text informing you to go online. After you receive the request, tap 'Accept'. Tap your profile picture and tap 'Scheduled Pickups' to schedule a trip in advance. When it's time for your pickup, the tour request will appear as a normal tour request with a banner that says: 'Your scheduled withdrawal. If there is no capture available, we will let you know in the screen pickups. Does adding a ride to my pickups ensure I'm going to make it? No. If you add a pickup to your calendar, we'll wait for you to stay online before you check out the tour. We can only wait so long though, and may find that there is another reason why we are unable to dispatch you to the ride. Go online and accept your scheduled withdrawal in the designated window. You can see pickup time windows (that is, when the pickup itself should occur) on scheduled tour routes. How do I make sure I get my scheduled withdrawal request? Make sure you go online when we send you a message and that you are close enough to arrive during the pilot collection window. What happens if I add a ride to my pickups and forget to accept the ride when it's time? If you can no longer give the ride, remove it from your pickup trucks so that another driver has a chance to schedule. How do I remove a ride from my scheduled pickups? Open the app. Tap your profile picture in the upper left corner. Tap 'Scheduled Pickups' Tap 'My Pickups' Tap 'Cancel pickup' To remove a ride, see their scheduled pickups, and tap 'Remove from my pickuptrucks'. Will removing a ride from my pickup trucks affect my acceptance rate? No, removing a ride won't affect your acceptance rating. However, we ask that you only add rides to your pickup trucks that you may commit to give. How do cancellations work? As these pickup trucks are set on a specific timeframe, there are a few more things to know about cancellations: If a passenger cancels a scheduled pickup before tapping 'Accept': We'll let you know, and you can always add more pickups. If a passenger cancels after tapping 'Accept' and you are scheduled to arrive within the designated pick-up window: Lyft's specific cancellation fee policy applies. Learn more about the cancellation policy for drivers. If a passenger cancels after tapping 'Accept' and you are scheduled to arrive on time according to the designated pickup window. If you remove a scheduled pickup after adding it to 'My pickups.' Try to avoid this as passengers rely on you to take them to their destinations. If you cancel a scheduled withdrawal after tapping 'Accept': The same cancellation policies apply as with a standard Lyft. If a scheduled tour qualifies for a cancellation fee, the standard fee amount usually applies. The fee may be higher if the passenger schedules this tour more than 20 minutes in advance. How far can I add to my pickup trucks? You add rides to your pickup trucks up to seven days before they're ready to happen. Can I add to my list of pickups? There is no limit at the moment, but tours cannot overlap in terms of boarding and delivery times. We ask that you only add rides to your pickup trucks that you can commit to give. What happens if I'm on a ride when it's time to accept a different pre-scheduled pickup? If that time elapsed, we will have to give this request to driver for the driver's sake. If you're currently on a ride at the moment we tell you to be available for a pre-booked pickup, don't worry! Finish your current tour and we'll give you a short grace period. Being on a ride when you should receive a scheduled pickup will not affect your acceptance rating. Back to the top. TechCrunch go daaa on Verizon Media. This would save you a lot of stress and help you sleep more the night before. It would also ensure extra peace of mind knowing that a ride would be there for you at the right time. In response to user demand, Lyft added this feature to your app. Now you can schedule a Lyft tour in advance, and it only takes a few easy steps. In this guide, we'll show you how to schedule a Lyft tour, as well as address some common questions about the process. Skip to: Reasons to schedule a Lyft tour You're probably familiar with as Lyft is a convenient way to get an on-demand ride, but why would you want to schedule one in advance? There are a few possible reasons we have identified, although you may have yours as well. Probably the most common reason to schedule a Lyft trip is to catch a morning flight. If you have a flight departing at 6 a.m., m, and you need to be at the airport at 4 am on .m., the last thing you want to worry about during your 3 m s wake-up call is to schedule your trip to the airport. Not only is it stressful to do this, but there is a risk that a driver will not be available. When you schedule a withdrawal in advance, these concerns are irrelevant. Another reason to schedule a Lyft tour would be the need to arrive at an important business meeting at a specific time. With any kind of critical event, you don't want to deal with the risk of being late because you had to wait 20 minutes after requesting a Lyft during rush hour. Scheduling a ride in advance means your request is already on Lyft's system. A final reason to schedule a Lyft Lyft is to get a cheaper price. When you schedule a trip in advance, the price you see is the price you will pay. This can be useful if you know you'll need to travel during Lyft Prime Time, when fares may be higher. When scheduling a trip in advance, you won't have to worry about current demand or traffic conditions that affect your fare. For example, you may be planning to meet some friends to drink after work on a Friday. You know you want to take Lyft, and you know what time you want to leave. But you also know you'll be traveling during rush hour, a time when Lyft fares tend to be higher. When scheduling your trip in advance, you won't have to deal with any price increases caused by driver shortages and a high demand for rides. Now that you understand some reasons for scheduling a Lyft tour, let's see how to do it. The process requires only a few steps: 1. Set your collection location Open the Lyft app. Lyft will automatically use your current location. If you want to set a different collection location, you can type it into 2. Set your delivery location Then you'll need to enter the delivery location. Enter an address or choose a location on the map. 3. Schedule your trip Once you have the delivery location set, tap the Schedule button in the menu that appears. Then choose the time and date you want. Note that you will see a number of collection times based on the time you choose. That's because Lyft can't guarantee an accurate collection time, just a number of times. If you are worried about being late, then choose an hour early to be safe. When you're happy with the pickup time, tap Set the pickup time. Finally, tap Schedule to confirm. 4. Be ready for your driver at the time and place of your pick-up Don't forget your scheduled ride. Lyft will send reminders leading to the tour to make sure you remember. Please note that it is possible for your driver to arrive early. If this happens, your driver will wait for you until the time of scheduled collection. If your driver is here and you need a few more minutes, it's courteous to contact them through the app so they know why they're waiting. How to cancel a scheduled Lyft tour While scheduling a trip in advance is convenient, sometimes your plans change. In these cases, you may need to cancel your scheduled Lyft tour. This only requires a few steps. First, open the Lyft app. Then tap the calendar icon in the upper-right corner to see a list of your scheduled tours: To cancel a scheduled trip, tap Cancel Tour. Then confirm the cancellation by tapping Cancel. Please note that you will not have to pay a cancellation fee to cancel a scheduled trip unless You cancel the trip after a driver has been arranged, the driver is on his way to pick you up, and the driver is scheduled to arrive within the designated pickup window This is the same cancellation policy that applies to all Lyft trips. Schedule the Lyft FAQ To complete this guide, let's discuss some of the Lyft tour scheduling questions: 1. Lyft ensures I'll get a ride? No, Lyft can't guarantee that a ride will be available. However, it is rare that a scheduled tour is not available. 2. Does Lyft charge a fee for scheduled tours? No, Lyft doesn't charge any fees for scheduled tours. In fact, as we discussed above, scheduled tours can cost less than scheduled tours in real time during rush hour or other hours of high demand for Lyft tours. 3. Where are scheduled tours available? Lyft does not provide specific details about this. They say: Scheduled tours are not available in all regions. To see if scheduled tours are available in your location, look for the calendar icon when confirming your tour details. 4. What kind of Lyft tours can I schedule? Currently, only standard Lyft tours are available to schedule. To get a Lyft XL, Lyft Lux or other type of Lyft ride, you have to schedule in real time. 5. How far in advance can I schedule a Lyft tour? You can schedule Lyft tours up to seven days in advance. 6. Can I request a specific Lyft driver when I schedule? No. As with any Lyft tour, your driver is matched to you based on proximity to your location. You cannot request a specific driver. 7. Does Uber have a scheduled ride feature? Yes, Uber has a very similar feature. You can learn about this in our guide to scheduling an Uber. It works the same way, although it allows you to request tours up to 30 days in advance instead of just seven.
